Kay and David Gallagher welcome you to 'The Sandbeck' - a Sea Front Guest house in the coastal town of Whitby in North Yorkshire. Where else in Whitby can you sit back and directly from your bedroom window witness Mother Nature's ever changing sea states. The hotel offers views right along Whitby's beaches from Sandsend point and across the harbour to Saltwick Nab. The views truly are magnificent and with Whitby being a hidden gem of character and beauty, where better to spend a weekend than here in Whitby with us at 'The Sandbeck'.

Everyone knows the key ingredients of a luxury break are the accommodation, food and location. The Sandbeck has been designed by us to deliver on all counts. Yes we have the magnificent views but we also have stylish bedrooms and of course the quality food and great service. You can have the traditional holiday full English breakfast served by our courteous staff in our dining room or relax in the comfort of your own room with a leisurely breakfast from our at room breakfast menu including organic choices. At the end of the day you can reflect upon the day's events in our stylish bar lounge with a glass of wine or a gin and tonic from our Honesty Bar or alternatively take your drink and chill out in the comfort of your own room.

We do try to make your stay that little bit special so please take a look at our arrivals packages for a selection of choices including wine, champagne, flowers and chocolates. If you have anything you require then please call and ask and we will try to deliver.
